

Two constituents hold a beehive panel from the Toledo GROWS Oneida Street Garden in downtown Toledo.

Oneida Street Garden was one site visited during the Toledo Community Garden Tour held on Saturday, August 7, 2010.

The U.S. Department of Justice and the U.S. Department of Agriculture have awarded grants to Toledo GROWS to train youth in green job skills and to enliven our central city through urban agriculture. To date, Toledo GROWS supports over 100 community gardens in Toledo.
